Selective Service Qualification Tests For College Students

Colonel John W. Patton, Jr., State Director of Selective Service for Mississippi, has received notice that General Hershey, National Director, has arranged for Selective Service Qualification Tests for College Students on Thursday, November 15, 1937, and Thursday, April 18, 1938. These tests will be held at approximately 1,000 testing centers throughout the nation.

"To be eligible for the test, a registrant must (1) intend to request deferment as a student (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction, and (3) must not previously have taken the qualification test," Colonel Patton explained. He said application blanks for the November test may be obtained from the student's nearest local board now, and full information will be given by the clerk of the local board.

Applicants should be submitted at the earliest possible date for the November test. Any applications postmarked after midnight on October 30 will not be accepted.

Students who attain a prescribed upper class standing or make a score of 70 or better on either of these tests are eligible for consideration by their local board for deferment during the next academic year. Local Boards are not required to defer students who meet one or both of these criteria, Colonel Patton pointed out, but their classifications are subject to appeal. Students whose academic year will end in January 1938 are urged to take the November test so they will have a test score on file at their local boards before the end of their academic year, at which time their cases will be reconsidered for possible deferment.

4-H ROUND-UP
Next Tuesday and Wednesday, November 13-14, are big days for the 4-H Club boys and girls of Mississippi. These are the dates for the annual State 4-H Round-Up of Champions in Jackson, State, district and some county 4-H winners will attend the two day affair.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

by
IDA LAURA GARRAWAY

Hancock County

You're an unusual homemaker if you're not looking for ideas on "What am I going to cook today?" Look over the list of Nov. plentiful foods and see if you don't find a good buy, too. In abundance this month are broilers and fryers, turkeys, pork, beef, eggs and cheese. Young chickens may be your choice for quick cooking, turkeys for weekends or company meals. You may find best turkey values in the big toms, but there will be hens and smaller turkeys, too. Best values in beef probably will be the economy grades and cuts.

Other foods continuing as plentiful are cheese, milk and other dairy products, rice, peanut butter, frozen orange juice and potatoes.

Cheese Festival Time
During Cheese Festival Time—the Month of October, why not try combining plentiful cheese and ground beef for a Cheese Meat Loaf. This recipe will make 25 servings. It was prepared for those with freezer space who want to save time on future meals. Why not follow this recipe and make up enough of the mixture for several meals, or reduce the amounts to fit one meal for your family.

2½ pounds ground beef
1 cup chopped onion
3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2½ cup chopped onion
3 eggs, beaten
2½ cups dry bread crumbs
1 tablespoon salt
½ small bay leaf, crushed

Mix beef, onion, green pepper, onion, tomatoes and seasonings thoroughly. Chopping, eggs and tomatoes and blend into meat mixture.

To serve, immediately, place meat mixture in loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees F (moderate oven) for about an hour.

These meat loaf may be frozen baked or unbaked.

RICE FACTS
With the exception of wild rice, which has to be washed, all rice is ready to use as it comes from the package. Rice is a convenience food. There is no peeling, scraping, dicing or cutting. It is ready to use as you buy it.

Rinsing rice after it is cooked causes loss of food value and may make the rice gummy. Cook rice in only "enough" water. Pouring off excess water takes with it some of the food value. A good rule is to follow the cooking directions on the package.

For extra fluffy rice, remove the saucepan from the heat after the recommended cooking period and leave the lid on until ready to serve—at least 10 minutes. You must use the proper proportion of rice to water. The steam in the saucepan fluffs the rice, gets it drier and keeps it hot.

Most rice you buy is milled white rice. Brown rice and parboiled rice are specialty items and costs more. Long grain rice is more expensive than medium or short. Broken rice for soups, meat loaves and desserts is economic, but not always available on local markets.

MALE STUDENTS URGED TO REGISTER IN SELECTIVE SERVICE

Colonel J. W. Patton, Jr., State Director of Selective Service for Mississippi, today announced that he is sending out a letter to all high schools in the State asking the superintendents and principals to call attention of the male students to their obligation to register with their Selective Service Local Boards when they reach age eighteen.

Colonel Patton stated, "We are asking the schools to impress upon the boys that they are required to register within five days following their 18th birthday. Failure to comply with this law could result in immediate induction into the armed forces as a delinquent, or punishment by a fine or imprisonment or both."

He further stated the Congress of the United States has stressed the importance of the American youth completing high school and college institution, and has made provision in the Universal Military Training and Service Act for a registrant taking a full-time course of instruction in high school to be deferred until he graduates or until he reaches 20 years of age.

Colonel Patton's letter explains that a registrant who is actually attending classes in college reached for induction is given deferment by law to the end of that academic year. Thereafter he may be deferred on through college if he makes the required scholastic standing, or makes at least 70 on the College Qualification Test.

Each boy also has the privilege of making a choice before he reaches age 18½, as to whether he will pay his military obligation to his country through the reserves of the armed forces and be deferred from active service, or whether he prefers active duty in the armed forces for two, three or four years.

High winds of Sunday spoiled an otherwise good fishing week. Reports however, came in that some good catches of all kinds of fish. The water remains excellent.

Chloe E. Desautels and Lou Gilstrap of Gulfport, spent Saturday at Bayou La Poudre fishing. Chloe said they caught a few good ones. They were doing fly fishing mostly, which is Chloe's best hobby.

Michael H. Reilly, general contractor of New Orleans, was over last week and he said he hasn't had time to do much fishing lately, but will be back.

President "Joe" scores again. We hope he stays on the ball at golf and at running our country above par.

Things are shaping up well for the 2nd Annual Tournament at Pass Christian Golf Club, on Saturday and Sunday, November 17 and 18. Better make arrangements to register now!

Ludger Mauffray and son, Jay of New Orleans, went fishing Sunday with Alden Mauffray and yours truly. Jay was the champion of the day, catching a large speckle, the only fish caught—blame it on the winds!

The duck season opened Wednesday. Haven't had time to get results as yet however. Pretty hot for duck hunting, but still some must go!

Kantcha Ketchum while fishing with Harold Bates, caught two red fish up Jordan River Saturday one weighed 5 3/4 pounds, the other 5 1/2 pounds. Goes to show there are still some big ones up the river.

A weekly sight on Jordan River is the boat the "Gail Kay" from up Rotten Bayou. Its getting to be a tradition, the boat with its fishing party (don't know the names) goes out every Saturday and returns Sunday evening. Fishing must be done in outside waters.

Do You Want To Be Free?

By Rickie Fulton J. Sheen

As you like, and the same thing happens: you lose your control; you become the slave of eating and drinking. You have lost your freedom in these things.

OTHER PEOPLE never really give their freedom to anything, even things like food and drink. They never really desire anything with their whole heart, because their heart is divided into a thousand pieces. They change their desires and likes with every passing dissatisfaction.

We often hear such people say: "I must pull myself together." No wonder they feel lost; they are like the pieces of a broken mirror, each reflecting a different image. Unfortunately this is the sad state of millions in the world; they are free from something, but free for nothing, because they have no purpose in life.

ANYONE WHO wants to be free really means he wants to be happy. He wants to be free in order to choose, to give himself to the things that will make him happy. So long as people use their freedom to choose imperfect things they will never find perfect peace.

We are made for God. He has given us our free will, our freedom, in order to be able to do His will, obey His laws, and in that way attain to our complete happiness in heaven. Freedom is ours to surrender. We have it to use for something. To give it to anything less than God is to miss the purpose for which God made us free men.

Mississippi Egg Shell Law Discussed At Meetings

Two meetings were held Tuesday in the Agricultural Center Building at 10 a. m. for producers and 7 p. m. for handlers of eggs. Objective of meetings was to acquaint each group with a new law effective November 1st.

This law is designed to promote the development of the poultry and egg industry of Mississippi and to protect producers, distributors, and the consumers of eggs. It "does" suppress misrepresentation and false advertising.

Thus the dealer, retailer, and the consumer have the opportunity of getting the quality and size of eggs to meet their needs.

Joe Branch from the Commission of Agriculture Office, Jackson was speaker and discussed the new law at length. He stated the best grade of eggs contain a large percentage of thick albumen which causes the yolk to stand up when the egg is broken out.

He further commented that the building of confidence of the consumer in ability to purchase graded eggs, will undoubtedly lead to an increased consumption of eggs, this in turn will reflect to the advantages of producer and distributor of eggs. The retail distributor will benefit through the elimination of unfair competition, which has existed when low quality eggs were offered for sale as fresh eggs, or when eggs were offered at a low price with no indication relative to size. In the past more advertising space and sales effort have been directed to the sale of low priced, poor quality, soiled and small eggs, than has been given to promote PLUS NEWS A CARTOON ETC which builds business through satisfied customers.

A demonstration was conducted to grading and candling of eggs. Eggs were graded into A, B and C "Grades" and into large, medium and small groups. All cartons containing eggs for resale purposes must be marked as to grade and size. In the candling demonstration particular emphasis was placed on the poor quality shell, blood spots and air bubbles within the egg.

Temperatures are another important factor in the quality of the egg. In order for the eggs to reach the customer with interior quality good enough to permit them to be sold as top grade eggs, they must be cooled properly and kept cooled from the time they are laid until they reach the consumer.

Stennis Announces Benefit Cotton Farmers Home Made Kitchen

United States Senator John Stennis commencing on official cotton acreage allotments for 1958 released last Wednesday by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, said, "I am pleased that the final effect of my cotton acreage amendment has been to practically prevent further reduction in Mississippi's cotton acreage. As a result of my amendments, Mississippi will lose only 3,018 acres instead of 185,627 acres in 1957."

Senator Stennis was author of three cotton amendments in the 1956 farm bill which almost completely offset the 1.14% reduction in the 1957 cotton acreage previously scheduled for Mississippi.

The Mississippi Senator said, "My cotton amendments will save Mississippi farmers 182,609 acres in 1957. With yields and prices comparable to 1955 and 1956, farmers will receive $30 million more in gross income from cotton than they would have realized without my amendments."

Final tabulations show that Mississippi will save 142,745 acres under the amendment which prevented further reduction in the national allotment for 1957; a gain of 13,448 acres under the amendment which assured each farmer the smallest of four acres or the highest planted in the three previous years, and an increase of 26,418 acres under the amendment which added $4.159 acres to the national allotment to prevent losses from shifts between states.

These amendments will also apply to the 1957 cotton allotments and Mississippi will fare even better at that time. Senator Stennis said that he will continue his fight to prevent further loss of acreage in Mississippi.

EXPLANATION OF THE WAR ORPHANS EDUCATIONAL ASSISTANCE ACT OF 1954

After passage by Congress the President signed Public Law 834, known as War Orphans Educational Assistance Act, on June 29, 1954. This law went into effect as of October 1, 1954. This training will be provided for children of veterans of World War I, World War II, and the Korean War under the following limitations:

Did you say a 50¢ steak?
Steaks cost your favorite restaurant more nowadays, so you have to pay more for them... and the same thing has happened in a lot of other lines—including the telephone business in Mississippi.

Since 1949, three items alone—six wage rate increases, an income tax increase, and cost increases associated with our additional investment in Mississippi—have added $7½ million a year to our cost of furnishing in Mississippi. In the meantime, additional revenue from rate telephone service... in the meantime, additional revenue from rate increases amounts to only $3½ million a year. This leaves a difference of $4 million a year between these increased yearly costs and our added revenues from rate increases.

One reason this is important to all Mississippians is that we will need to spend another $34 million in 1958-59 to meet Mississippi's growing telephone needs and this large sum must be secured from people who expect reasonable earnings on their investment.

Our present return is not reasonable: it is too low and getting lower. There you have the reason we are asking the Public Service Commission to study our revenue needs and set new rates that will be fair to telephone users and to the Company.

WAVELAND WANDERINGS
by
GEORGETTE B. HALL

In spite of the many and various activities on last Halloween evening, both in Waveland and Bay St. Louis, the traditional "trick and treaters" made the rounds of Waveland's homes and received many delicious goodies. Anticipating the callers, most families were well stocked with treats, but in some sections the Halloween "goblins" and "witches" who called were so numerous that several housewives had to resort to such mundane treats as "store-bought cookies." The youth who made the most of Halloween are certainly to be commended, however, upon their fine behavior. There was no vandalism in Waveland, and as far as we could see, very little tricking. The treats must have been more than adequate. Mrs. Harvey Barrett of Sobral Street called to ask us to thank not only the children who called at her door for their courteous behavior, but also to their parents who no doubt disciplined their offsprings before they took off into the spooky blackness of the night.

Best wishes are extended to Mrs. Effie Mazarakis and Mr. "Bill" Erdmann who are now at their homes in Waveland and recuperating after surgery. This collection of news from her telling of the wonderful time she and her friends are having in New York. Mrs. Ketchum states that she has already seen four Broadway shows.

Mrs. Francis de Valin is spending a week in her home on Oak Boulevard. She is sharing her visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hicks and Mrs. Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. James McConnell and Mrs. Marie Douglas have returned from a trip to Monroe, La.

Mrs. Roger Bordages accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nelson to Baton Rouge during the weekend. The Nelsons visited their daughter and her family. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schumann and children Mrs. Bordages was the guest of her nephew, Mr. Ed Carrio, and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Macaluso and their niece, Miss Eileen Jesi, spent the weekend in the Masaluso home on Beach Blvd.

Mr. and Mrs. Rham Dardene are spending a week in their home on Water Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell welcomed their son, Ronald Russell, home from the weekend. Ronald is studying Electrical Engineering at Mississippi State and doesn't get to come home very often. His parents and sister were delighted to see him.

George Koltanowski To Give Exhibition of Chess At Gulfport
George Koltanowski, renowned international chess master, will give an exhibition at Hotel Markham in Gulfport, Miss. November 12. Sponsored by the Mississippi Gulf Coast Chess Association, Mr. Koltanowski will be entertained at a dinner before the chess exhibition which begins at seven o'clock in the evening. The public is invited to attend both the dinner and the following exhibition at moderate admission charge. Koltky's career has been amazing as you will find him to be. Born in Antwerp, Belgium in 1903, he soon exhibited those memory traits which so astounded the members of the thousands of chess clubs he has visited in the last twenty-five years. The Belgium "quid" learned chess at the age of fourteen, soon became a recognized international chess master and has since traveled the world over amazing audiences with his "mental magic" also playing and teaching the game. Koltky, now an American citizen, is at home in seven languages. His exhibitions provide a glimpse into the chess lore of the world. He knows the world's chess masters and sparkles each lecture with humorous anecdotes about the chess immortals.

FATAL MISSISSIPPI TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS HAVE DECREASED
Fatal Mississippi traffic accidents have decreased sharply since the start of the Highway Patrol's "Operation-Attack." According to Commissioner of Public Safety Tom Scarborough, on October 1 when the first advance warnings of "Operation-Attack" were sounded, the state's highway death toll stood at 27 deaths above the number reported one year ago.

POLIO VACCINE IN MISSISSIPPI IS VERY PRONOUNCED
The effectiveness of polio vaccine in Mississippi during 1956 is very pronounced, according to Dr. A. L. Gray, director of Preventable Diseases. Control who today released to the public a polio program report for the past year and a half months.

1956 Federal Congress Changes Matching Formula
The 1956 Federal Congress changed its matching formula for welfare funds. This with the resulting small increase made available in state funds made it possible for some of the restrictions formerly placed on qualifications of applicant for old age assistance, aid to the blind, aid to dependent children, and to permanently disabled to be changed. The State is in no position to begin a pension program. It is felt that responsible relatives should contribute to the support of their dependents but when they do not and NEED is found to exist it becomes a duty of society to help. Now, actual contributions will be counted in the budget and NOT assumed contributions which have been based on relatives' ability.

MISSISSIPPI GETS RELICS FROM SHIP
Relics from the battleship USS Mississippi, now being dismantled at Norfolk, Va., are being sent to the State of Mississippi. Navy Department officials advised that the vessel's silver service, donated by the State when the ship was commissioned, is being returned to the Governor's Mansion at Jackson. Along with it is going a set of books on Mississippi history from the ship's library. In addition, the candelabras are being sent to the Mississippi headquarters at Natchez. A loving cup is going to the National Society of Colonial Dames at Columbus.

MISSISSIPPI'S 1956 HONEY CROP
Mississippi's 1956 honey crop was estimated at 1,800,000 pounds—37 per cent higher than last year, the state crop and livestock reporting service said. The service said the increase was due mainly to an increased number of bee colonies as well as to a higher average yield per colony. Bee keepers reported they had 75,000 colonies this year, compared with 73,000 last year. Average yield was estimated at 24 pounds this year compared with 18 last year.

1956 Federal Congress Changes Matching Formula
The 1956 Federal Congress changed its matching formula for welfare funds. This with the resulting small increase made available in state funds made it possible for some of the restrictions formerly placed on qualifications of applicant for old age assistance, aid to the blind, aid to dependent children, and to permanently disabled to be changed. The State is in no position to begin a pension program. It is felt that responsible relatives should contribute to the support of their dependents but when they do not and NEED is found to exist it becomes a duty of society to help. Now, actual contributions will be counted in the budget and NOT assumed contributions which have been based on relatives' ability.

MISSISSIPPI'S 1956 HONEY CROP
Mississippi's 1956 honey crop was estimated at 1,800,000 pounds—37 per cent higher than last year, the state crop and livestock reporting service said. The service said the increase was due mainly to an increased number of bee colonies as well as to a higher average yield per colony. Bee keepers reported they had 75,000 colonies this year, compared with 73,000 last year. Average yield was estimated at 24 pounds this year compared with 18 last year.
